Welcome to the November Newsletter

The month of November I feel, is one in which we are specifically asked to remember. It starts with the festivals of All Saints and All Souls, which follow on from All Hallows. (These three are commonly known together as All Hallowstide.) A period of time when we remember all of the Saints who lived before us, those whose names we know and also those whose names have been lost over the years. On All Souls we gather together to remember the members of our families and our friends who have died and to light candles in their memory and offer up prayers for them.

Then on the 5th November we remember Guy Fawkes and the plot to blow up the Houses of Parliament. I remember with great joy the bonfire parties that I went to as a child, some in back gardens and some more organised displays, where the rockets seemed to go higher and were brighter.

Fireworks light up the skies for a few brief seconds and the colours of them fill us with delight. I am not quite sure what the fascination is for them, but it is there.

Then there is the 11th November, another time for remembrance. To think about all of those people who died in war time in the pursuit of peace, especially those who served in the armed forces, but also the civilians. Throughout the year we will have days specific to each one of us, when we remember a loved one who has died. But for me, November seems to be the time when we can focus our thoughts and call to mind those in our family and friendship circles whose anniversaries we have forgotten, or didn't know, such as grandparents or great-grandparents or even further back.

A time to think about them and what binds us to them. Wondering if we have anything in common. One thing that does this is God – their belief in Him and our belief in Him. The one constant down the centuries.

As you light your candles in memory of those you miss, remember that one day we will be reunited with them in the kingdom of God.

Every Blessing
Rev Alison

Somethings to think about:

1. Stressed spelled backwards is Desserts - A Coincidence - I think not!
2. Knowledge is knowing that a tomato is a fruit. Wisdom is not putting one in a fruit salad.
3. If we're not meant to have midnight snacks, why is there a light in the fridge.

If you would like to be part of this then please let Rev Alison know.

Bravery

A Bishop was astonished to hear a little girl say you had to be very brave to go to Church. He asked her why she said that and she said that she had overheard her Uncle tell her Aunt that last Sunday there was a Cannon in the pulpit, the choir murdered the Anthem and the organist drowned the choir!

Joshua Dyer, aged 14 was tasked at school to write a poem for Remembrance Day 2019.

An hour later, without any help he produced the following poignant poem.

'One Thousand Men Are Walking'

*One thousand men are walking
Walking side by side
Singing songs from home
The Spirit as their guide
they walk toward the light milord
they walk towards the sun
they smoke and laugh and smile together
no foes to outrun
these men live on forever
in the hearts of those they saved
a nation truly grateful for the path of peace they paved they march as friends and comrades but they do not march for war step closer to salvation
a tranquil steady corps
the meadows lit with golden beams
a beacon for the brave
the emerald grass untrampled a reward for what they gave they dream of those they left behind and know they dream of them forever in those poppy fields
there walks one thousand men
Joshua Dyer - 2019 (aged 14)*
